DETAILED ACTION

In the response to the restriction requirements, Applicants elect group I with species (1), with traverse, a residue from phosphonic acid, in that claims 1 and 8 are read on the elected species.

In the condition if the claims in group I with (1) species, are in condition of allowance, then the search is further expanded to non-elected species.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over EP 1270646 of record on 1449.

The reference discloses a resin composition comprising a phosphorus containing residue and a dihydric phenol residue having formula (2), identical with the claimed formula (1), and the claimed Abbe number (see page 5, line 15, equation (6)).

The disclosure of the reference differs from the instant claims in that it does not disclose that the phosphorus containing residue having a bicycloalkyl structure.

Art Unit: 1711

However, the reference does disclose the claimed residues of phosphonic acid in that a bicycloalkyl structure is included.

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select the residues of phosphonic acid from the reference within the limitation of the instant claims to have the bicycloalkyl structure, since they have been shown to be effective in a similar system and thus would have been expected to provide adequate results. There is no showing of unexpected results derived from said selection.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1 and 8 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 3-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,750,313. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the only difference between two set of claims is the claims in the reference do not disclose the claimed equation (III).

Art Unit: 1711

However, the Abbe number in claims 3-4 in the reference is included in the claimed equation (III). Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to select variations in the equation from the reference within the limitation of the instant claims to get the claimed Abbe number in the absence of a showing of unexpected results derived from said selection.
